June 1–4, 2013

The Canadian Pharmacists Association (CPhA) National Conference – CPhA 2013 – is Canada’s premier gathering of pharmacists and health care professionals in related fields. It is an excellent opportunity to connect and interact with more than 450 of your peers from across Canada who are involved in all aspects of pharmacy practice.

WHY PARTICIPATE?
• Learn about the most up-to-date therapeutic information to support your pharmacy practice
• Gain greater insight into the people, places and issues shaping pharmacy practice in the future
• Discover new products and services from exhibitors during the trade show
• Network with other pharmacists and health care professionals

WHO ATTENDS?
• Community pharmacists
• Corporate and consulting pharmacists
• Hospital pharmacists
• Pharmacists in family practice settings, long-term care facilities, government and military institutions
• Academic and research pharmacists
• New practitioners, students and interns
• Health care administrators
• National and provincial association members
• Health care professionals in related fields

Keynote Speaker
Sunday, June 2, 8:50 a.m.

Continuing Education Units (CEUs) for educational programs have been obtained from the Canadian Council on Continuing Education in Pharmacy (CCCEP). A CEU tracking form will be provided at the conference.

CPhA 2013 is accredited under program number: 8002-2013-115-C-P.
Dear Colleagues,

On behalf of the Canadian Pharmacists Association, I invite you to join us June 1-4 in Charlottetown, PEI, for great professional development in a beautiful setting.

PEI is a place of new beginnings. Just like almost 150 years ago when colonial representatives met and plans for a new nation emerged, we find ourselves as pharmacists today working in a new world of practice. Our goal for this year’s conference is, with your support, to promote the evolution of a more stable environment to promote our profession, building on the strong foundation CPhA has created over the years.

As a national voice of pharmacy in Canada, CPhA is your guide. You may be on the edge of unchartered waters, but you are not alone.

Learn what's shaping pharmacy today and gain valuable clinical knowledge that will help you in daily practice. Network and socialize with friends old and new. Share in what others have experienced and discuss topics from revamping our health care system, with keynote speaker Jeffrey Simpson, to functioning in the multi-generational workplace, our closing session.

Give Jeff Poston a warm send-off into retirement at his reception Sunday, June 2. Share memories and celebrate his many years of service as CPhA's Executive Director.

Remember to follow us on LinkedIn, Facebook and Twitter (#CPhA2013) and join MyCPhA, our private professional network for pharmacists (www.pharmacists.ca/joinmycpha). Join the conversation before the conference and keep it going long after to enhance your experience.

Together we’ll map out the future of pharmacy, starting at CPhA 2013. See you in Charlottetown!

CPhA President 2012-2013
PRE-CONFERENCE WORKSHOPS

Kick-start your professional development with one of these three pre-conference workshops on diabetes, ADAPT and critical appraisal. Workshop fees are separate from conference fees and pre-registration is required. Due to concurrent scheduling you may attend only one of these pre-conference workshops.

Critical Appraisal 101: Evidence Appraisal for Non-Researchers

Saturday, June 1, 1:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.
(4.75 CEUs) (Accreditation #8002-2013-116-L-P)
Sarah Jennings, BSc, BScPhm, RPh, PharmD, Knowledge Exchange Officer, Canadian Agency for Drugs and Technologies in Health (CADTH); Ottawa, ON

"Clinical trials show..." “Data suggests...” "A clinical practice guideline recommends...“

Health care professionals are bombarded with statements like this on a daily basis. Without a research background, how can we make sense of it all? Geared to health care professionals and decision-makers needing quick-assessment skills to evaluate scientific papers, this workshop will appeal to anyone who wants to gain introductory comfort in interpreting medical literature. Find out what to look for in a randomized controlled trial (RCT) and a clinical practice guideline (CPG), and practise critical appraisal skills in small groups. Sample papers will be circulated in advance for interactive discussions.

Fees:
CPHA 2013 registrants: $75 in addition to conference fee
CPHA members, workshop only: $125
Non-members, workshop only: $250
All fees are subject to 14% HST.

Advancing Pharmacy Practice in Diabetes

Saturday, June 1, 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.
(6 CEUs) (Accreditation #8002-2013-118-L-P)
Rob Roscoe, B.Sc.Pharm., ACPR, CDE, CPT, Certified Diabetes Educator, Pharmacist, Kennebecasis Drugs Team Member, Saint John Regional Hospital Diabetes Teaching Centre; Rothesay, NB

Enhance your knowledge and skills to better meet the needs of your patients with diabetes. This one-day interactive workshop will provide useful learning and sharing you can put into practice right away! Topics include lab tests that help assess patient status and individualize therapy; when patients should self-monitor and using pattern management to optimize treatment; promoting lifestyle and nutrition; current evidence on oral agents; managing insulin starts, FIT recommendations for injection technique; the importance of hypoglycemia and lowering the risk from initial screening to long-term complications. Participants will have access to practice and screening tools to use in their pharmacy practice.

Fees:
CPHA 2013 registrants: $125 in addition to conference fee
CPHA members, workshop only: $200
Non-members, workshop only: $400
All fees are subject to 14% HST.

This workshop is a component of the Diabetes Strategy for Pharmacists and was developed with funding from the Public Health Agency of Canada under the Canadian Diabetes Strategy.

ADAPT Medication Assessment

Saturday, June 1, 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.
(4.75 CEUs) (Accreditation #8002-2013-116-L-P)
Barry Power, PharmD, Pharmacist, Rideau Family Health Team, Ottawa; Adjunct Assistant Professor, School of Pharmacy, University of Waterloo; Ottawa, ON

Using learning content from the ADAPT online patient care skills development program, this interactive workshop will take participants through the main components and process of conducting a medication assessment. Enhance your skills in providing comprehensive medication assessments, including developing a systematic process for identifying drug-related problems in complex patients and creating comprehensive pharmacy care plans.

Fees:
CPHA 2013 registrants: $125 in addition to conference fee
CPHA members, workshop only: $200
Non-members, workshop only: $400
All fees are subject to 14% HST.

The aging population means painful and debilitating varicella-zoster infections will become more common, as a large group enters the age range where they are most often seen. By taking on an expanded role in patient care, pharmacists can inform patients and in some jurisdictions, administer vaccines to those at risk. Gain practical information that every pharmacist needs to be ready.
